| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1.  Whether intentional or unintentional, a student who is caught plagiarizing will be punished.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 2.  As long as I have the permission of another person, I may use his or her work without citing it.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 3.  I can turn in a paper I find on the internet and call it my own work as long as I pay for it.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 4.  If I find a newspaper or magazine article on the Web, I can use it without citing it, because I found it in electronic form.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 5.  Taking phrases, sentences or paragraphs of text from a source then using them without citations is plagiarism. This includes cutting from a source and pasting it in my paper.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 6.  A direct quotation is when a student puts the words of a source into his or her own words.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 7.  A paraphrase is when a student puts the ideas of a source into different words and phrasing. This means changing sentence structure and word choice.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 8.  If I cut and paste from an online source into my work, I must put quotation marks around all the words, cite the source in the text and put a citation on my Works Cited page.
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
| 9.  Do I need to cite the Maroon 5 tune I used in my PowerPoint presentation?
  | A  Yes
  | B  No  |
10. I made a display board for a history assignment that includes a great timeline I found in my history book. Do I need to cite the timeline I found in my textbook?
   A  Yes
   B  No

11. If I need an additional source to meet my teacher’s 5 source minimum, I can include one in my Works Cited page, even if I haven’t used it.
   A  Yes
   B  No

12. If I have the permission of another student, I can turn in his or her own work as my own.
   A  Yes
   B  No

13. You found a photo on Google images, do you need to cite it on the website you created for your science class?
   A  Yes
   B  No

14. I wrote a paper for religion last year. I have a different teacher this year, but I’d like to use the same exact paper for her assignment.
   Is this okay?
   A  Yes
   B  No

15. Tom wrote a paper on mortal sin for his religion class using three sources. He created a Works Cited page for his sources, but he did not include in-text citations within his paper. Is this plagiarism?
   A  Yes
   B  No

16. You found a great quote from Martin Luther King for your history paper. You properly cite it with quotation marks in your paper and include the source on your works cited page. Unfortunately, your teacher has a very strict 500 word limit. You decide to remove a few words from his quote, because it’s easier than trying to rework your own sentences. Is this okay?
   A  Yes
   B  No

17. Science is your worst subject and you are really feeling overwhelmed. During lunch, your friend who is a science wiz lets you copy her answers for a worksheet that is due next period. Is this plagiarism?
   A  Yes
   B  No

18. In your paper, you state that Abraham Lincoln was the sixteenth president of the United States? Do you need to cite this?
   A  Yes
19. Do you need to cite this?
   A. Yes
   B. No

20. EasyBib is always correct because it is a computer program that has all the answers.
   A. Yes
   B. No

21. Citations on your Works Cited page can be in any format, including one you make up, as long as you include all the necessary information (title, author, date, etc) and you are consistent.
   A. Yes
   B. No